

DAILY EXAMINER.

J. W. DOWNS, Editor and Proprietor

FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1874.

The Statesman writes up the "one term" doctrine. All right, neighbor; one term will be quite as long as we wish to serve.

The Dallas Commercial says it is a stinging shame, that Texas buys a large per cent. of her eatables. What? would you have us starve? You wicked Commercial man.

The Dallas papers are still barking at the mad dogs, and the Mayor has issued orders directing the police to kill all dogs found on the streets. Dallas is in a fair way to lose a large per cent. of her population.

Col. E. Sterling C. Robertson, of Salado, is in attendance upon the session of the State Grange in Austin, and is highly complimented by the city papers. He is one of the leading farmers and business men in his section, and well known in the State generally.

Trans-planting has been of immense service to the Galveston Mercury. It is now one of the best papers in the State, and no mean antagonist for the "leading" or any other paper.

Every mail brings as additional particulars of the wide-spread desolation caused by the flood in Louisiana. It really seems as though the powers of darkness had combined to afflict our sister State, with all the evils at their command.

The Grangers have been sitting with closed doors, thus far, at Austin. It is hoped that they will open them to the public soon. Much interest is being manifested in their present meeting at Austin, and much good is expected from them.

Mr. Elias A. Leak, the victim of the late Bryan outrage, was a member of the immortal old Fourth Alabama regiment, and is represented by the Montgomery Advertiser, as an exceptionally brave, and popular man.

The Kansas editors are meditating a raid on Galveston. When they come, that city and its "leading journals" will go into convulsions to be sure. God protect the innocent people who will have to pay the cost of their reception and entertainment.

The Age, of the 15th, reads the San Antonio Herald a lesson upon its wickedness in trying to split up and secede, just because it can't have its way with regard to railroads. Hit him again, another of those ponderous blows, Mr. Age, and he'll keep quiet for all time!

Col. Marcus M. Towne, assistant superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, was seen looking over our city over, yesterday, with a surprised eye.—Dallas Herald.

If he gets out of the scrape without either a black or a watery eye, we will be much surprised, and he may consider himself very fortunate.

The claim of G. B. Lamar, of Georgia, amounting to $200,000, for which judgment was given by the United States Court of Claims and appealed by the Attorney General, is about to be paid, the Attorney General having dismissed the appeal. A more outrageous course of oppression has never been exhibited than in the delays interposed to the settlement of this claim.

The New York Herald asks this momentous question, "Shall the national honor, or the Republican party go down?" As far as the national honor is concerned, that went by the board some time since, and as to the Republican party, we'll be hanged if we care how soon it follows the other. National dishonor, is the child of the Republican party, and a common grave should receive them both.

The Houston Star finds after issuing five numbers of his paper, that fifteen city subscribers won't pay the weekly bills, and urges the other four hundred and eighty-five of his city friends to subscribe, and the non-payers among the fifteen to ante up. The Star will find, that shine he never so brightly, he must do it through the medium of "paid up" Saturday bills; and that twinkling on tick, is about the meanest business he ever engaged in, in all his life. And that publishing a paper for glory, is the hardest, and longest road to earthly bliss that a poor mortal ever walked in.

THE INTERNATIONAL RAILROAD.

THE NEWS AND THE LEGISLATURE.

The Galveston News, speaking of the International Bond, or subsidy question, now before the Legislature, wants no more foggy legislation. It even takes the Legislature by the ear, and denounces the bill before it as a "monstrosity." This is very well for the News; but, we presume, the Legislature is only getting even with the News on these foggy measures. When it wants fog, as in the Public Weigher Bill, it advocates it very strongly; when it wants the noonday sun to gild matters, it shines with a supernatural brightness. Now, we rather like its article of the 15th. We like to see these things dealt with in an open, fair way. A little more directness and a good deal more frankness is almost an imperative necessity, not only to a fair solution of this vexed question, but a proper understanding of its merits, by the people generally. To this loudly complained of want of "openness and decisiveness" on the part of the "leading journal" is referable much of the popular hatred against the subsidy to the International railroad.

We heartily concur in the declaration of the News, as to the propriety of giving to this corporation exactly what it is entitled to, in the fair and honestly expressed opinion of the Legislature, the only judges having jurisdiction in the case.

If they are not entitled to the original six million subsidy, but to a smaller amount, say so frankly; or, if they are not legally or equitably entitled to anything, say so with equal frankness, and relieve the public mind of any further apprehension.

We trust the present Legislature will deal with and settle this question definitely, one way or another; either let them have it, or repudiate altogether the subsidy granted by the immortal 13th Legislature.

BY TELEGRAPH.

CALVERT, April 16.—C. Anchinks, the Clerk of the County Court of Robertson county, has been committed to jail for the rape of Lina King, colored, a child of nine years. Bail refused. G.

News Notes.

The Emperor of Germany has conferred upon Miss Anna Thacker, of Wolverhampton, England, the war medal, with ribbon, and the insignia and diploma of this decoration, for services rendered to the sick and wounded in the hospital at Cologne. This is in addition to the cross already received by Miss Thacker.

A letter from Lima says the Jesuits who came to Peru, owing to political troubles in Germany, Italy and Spain will not be permitted to remain in that country.

The treaty between Queen Victoria and the Emperor of Russia, in regard to the marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh and the Grand Duchess Marie Alexandrovna, is published. It provides that if there should be a child born of the marriage, it shall be brought up as protestant, but that the Grand Duchess shall be at liberty to worship according to the rites of the Orthodox Greek Church.

General G. W. Curtis Lee is applying to Congress for a restoration of the Arlington property, or for compensation to him for the same.

The Ohio Constitutional Convention has adopted an article prohibiting special legislation to confer corporate powers, and providing that corporations may be formed under general laws, but all such laws may from time to time be altered or repealed.

A Western paper says dealers in butter classify it as wool grease, cart grease, soap grease, variegated, tea-related cow grease, boarding-house breakfast, inferior tub, common tub, medium roll, good roll, and gilt-edge roll. The terms are strictly technical.

The Mississippi Legislature has just passed a license law that requires a majority of males over twenty-one, and of females over eighteen, to sign the petition of any applicant.

Pennsylvania has 19,000 public school teachers.

A son of the King of Bavaria lives in Chicago, and he was arrested the other day for stealing a horse and buggy. He said that he did not mean to steal, and the court believed him and let him go.

The correspondent of the Jewish Chronicle at Jerusalem writes: The enormous immigration of Russian and Polish Jews goes on without intermission. Last autumn every Russian boat from Odessa, and every Austrian boat from Trieste, brought forty or fifty families. Among these were several rich men, who immediately on their arrival, bought ground and built houses, especially outside the city near the gate, on both sides of the Jaffa road, so that a new suburb—in fact "a new Jerusalem"—is springing up here. The finest houses belong to our co-religionists.

In Iowa shot guns are being polished up in thoughtful preparation for the lightning rod men.

In Ohio it is "femalestren;" in Wisconsin, "amazonistic."

GRANT ANXIOUS FOR RE-ELECTION.—It is said that Grant has set his heart on a third election to the Presidency, and that nothing pleases him so much as the third term flattery which he hears in a few newspapers and from the mouths of some of those who have favors to ask at his hands. It was by this talk that a life long lobbyist from New Hampshire, named Durkee, came here a week or two ago, and secured the nomination to the Senate for a second term of District Attorney Rolfe, of New Hampshire, without the knowledge of the delegation and against the wishes of three of the four Republicans from that State. The New Hampshire men who were hostile to Rolfe, at once raised a great tempest, and went to the President with a demand that he should withdraw the name. They represented that Rolfe was not well qualified for the duties of the office. The President found that he had made a mistake, and has promised to withdraw the nomination when the delegation agree in recommending his successor. This they will do soon, and in the meantime, the President has requested the Judiciary Committee not to act on Rolfe's nomination.

The European gentleman whose visit to this country has occasionally been announced as that of Albert Grant, M. D., and Baron Grant, is a Hebrew, whose original name was Gubuhelm, or something like it. He is a London banker, and was formerly President of the English Credit Foncier, when it broke without fatally damaging him. He then changed his name to Grant, bought the title of Baron from the King of Italy, and is on the high road to fortune. The following epigram respecting him was current in London last summer:
Kings can title give; honor they cannot:
Title without honor is barren grant.

A clergyman at Clarinda, Ohio, was away from home when the crusade began. He returned in the evening, and saw his wife standing at the bar of a saloon, singing as loud as she could. He supposed she was drunk, and entering the saloon, the tears rolling down his face, he said: "Come home, wife, you have ruined me—drunk—drunk—drunk."

The Rev. T. T. Patrick, a Methodist minister in Williamsburg, L. I., is being put through a lively course of sprouts. He is accused of having been intoxicated, one sister maintaining that she smelled liquor on his breath. The sister did not state how she came to smell it. A few brothers testify to peculiar conduct on the part of their divine. Evidently T. T. does not stand for tototaler.

There was a young man in Chicago,
And he said, "May I to your pa go,
And ask for your hand,
And your kisses and land?"
This timid young man of Chicago.
There was a young girl in Chicago,
Who said, "If you don't let my paw go,
Your eye I will scratch,
And your hair I will snatch,
And swiftly I will use every claw go!"

The editor of the Brookhaven, Miss., citizen, is going to have some editorial assistance in a few months. He is raising a crop of cabbage heads. We regret exceedingly, the loss of our usual dispatch. The storm which prevailed yesterday, is the cause.

"Sambro, why am the dogs de most intelligent folks in de world?" "Because dey nose every ting."

A man writing poetically of the weather says: "The backbone of Winter is broken, but its tail wags yet occasionally."

A young 'Aberdonian, on taking up a newspaper, turned to the column of births, and said, "I wonder if there is anybody that I ken."

A critique upon "Othello" had the following: "The Moor, seizing a bolster full of rage and jealousy, smothered her."

It is proposed at Pittsburg to bring iron ore from Chatanooga, in order to keep down the price of that received from Lake Superior. It is claimed that ore can be had in Chattanooga for $3.50 per ton, and that the freight will not exceed $7.70.

Let's see—has anybody said anything—about—the—dead—Democracy—this—morning?

The backbone of the Democracy has again been broken—this time in Connecticut.
